NO SPOT LIGHTS PLAYING ON STAR

When "Girl and Bandit" Opens at Evansville

Derailed Car and Bally Team Conspire to Deprive Miss Gillette of Advantage.

SCENERY SCATTERED AROUND

Aboard a flying passenger train moving at the rate of 50 miles an hour, property men with the "Girl and the Bandit" company are working their fingers to the bone to repair "props" and scenery damaged in a collision with a street car at Ninth street and Broadway at 1 o'clock this morning. That a complete presentation of the production is given the public at Evansville tonight depends entirely upon the success of the mechanics in their novel, portable workshop.

The spot light machines, the bandit's throne, and several important "props" used in the production were damaged. Mr. McFarland, the baritone, stated at the train that he did not know how seriously the accident would affect the play tonight, but stated that he did not think the spot light machines could be got in order.

Street car No. 55, Rowlandtown line, Motorman Matlock and Conductor Jordan, was derailed at Tenth and Burnett streets. It was replaced shortly before 1 o'clock and ran full speed to Broadway. It was en route to the shed. One of Thompson's transfer wagons was loaded to the top with scenery en route to Eleventh street and Broadway to be loaded on the baggage car. The horses balked and would go neither backward nor forward, and the driver was forced to leave his wagon, drive the horses to the stable for another team.

The car came along and Motorman Matlock could not see distinctly, the wagon having been left just beyond Broadway at the west end of the switch directly in the middle of the track. Matlock rang his bell but the wagon did not move. He then saw it was without horses.

Reversing his power he tried to stop, but too late. The car struck the wagon and with a crash scenery was strewn about the street. A piece of the bandit's throne was found this morning in the street car.

"We estimate our damage between $200 and $300," Mr. McFarland said. "We have been playing in bad luck lately, meeting with accident after accident, missing trains and experiencing all kinds of difficulty. At Evansville tonight we will doubtless have to play with no spot lights unless we can secure one there."

MAY BE PRETENDER.

Teheran, Persia, Jan. 10.—Great excitement was caused by reports from Luristan that Abou Fat Mirza, third son, the late shah has raised an army of 10,000 men and is preparing to march on Teheran in the hope of capturing the throne.

FOUR PEOPLE ARE AFTER UNIQUE CAFE WHEN SOLD.

A. E. Boyd, assignee of the Unique cafe, has four prospective buyers for the place at private sale but does not expect an offer before Saturday. Three of the buyers are restaurant men and one has never been in the business.

COLONEL KILLED.

Lodz, Poland, Jan. 10.—Colonel Andrejaff, chief of the gendarmes here, was assassinated today, a revolver was used by the assassin, who escaped after firing the shots.

MRS. EUSTIS DEAD.

Widow of Secretary of Confederate Legation at Paris.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Mrs. George J. Eustis, sister-in-law of the late James B. Eustis, who was American ambassador to France, is dead. Mrs. Eustis was the widow of George Eustis, Jr., who was representative from Louisiana to the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth congresses, and became secretary of the Confederate legation in Paris, remained in that city at the close of the war, and was commissioned by Minister Washburn to negotiate a postal treaty with the French government.

CASE IS DECIDED

Judge Reed Will Express His Opinion in the Marketmaster Controversy in the Morning

SEES ORDINANCE

Another 24 hours will settle the contention between the board of public works and the general council as to the right to appoint marketmaster, sewer inspector and wharfmaster, as far as the circuit court can go. Both sides have said they will prosecute the case to the court of appeals, in which event the litigation will be long drawn out, but this decision will decide the injunction, and put one man in charge of the market house and the sewers until the case is finally adjudicated.

Circuit Judge William Reed said today that he has made up his mind in the matter and will announce his decision tomorrow morning. In this case E. C. Bell was elected marketmaster and A. Bundesman sewer inspector by the general council, in accordance with an ordinance providing for their election, and in accordance with custom. Afterward the board of public works appointed J. E. Potter marketmaster and A. Franke sewer inspector. These two nominally enjoined the councilman's appointees from acting.

No intimation is given as to Judge Reed's decision, but a significant fact was his calling for a copy of the ordinance, under which the general council acted. The board of public works contends that the ordinance is of no avail and that the marketmaster, wharfmaster and sewer inspector are simply employees of the board of public works, not city officials.

The ordinance was not quoted in the petition and Judge Reed called for it. The fact was a point apparently in favor of the defendants.

SCHMITZ CIPHER; RUEF FIGURE.

San Francisco Grand Juror Declares Mayor Is Not Real Chief.

San Francisco, Jan. 10.—Attorney Ach representing Mayor Schmitz in the case against the executive, today called to the stand Foreman Oliver, of the grand jury, in an effort to prove that the jurors were prejudiced against the mayor and Boss Abraham Ruef. Oliver said he had been amazed by the mass of corruption the jury uncovered and declared:

"I regard Schmitz as a cipher and Ruef as a figure."

During the examination of Juror Rothenberg, Attorney Shortridge asked a question to which Assistant District Attorney Heney objected as insulting, whereupon Judge Dunne ordered Shortridge to his seat, saying: "You have insulted every branch of the administration of justice. I will hear nothing further from you."

Bridge Goes Down.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Jan. 10.—The bridge over the Santaynez river collapsed late yesterday carrying 20 people into the river. Two were drowned and several injured.

BULGER IS COMING HOME WITH DETECTIVE MOORE

Jim Bulger, who is in jail at Paris, Tenn., will be returned to Paducah tonight, the requisition papers arriving here this morning. Bulger is accused of cutting a blacksmith named Bailey Saturday night at the Hotel Richmond. He escaped to Tennessee but was arrested at Paris on instructions from Chief of Police James Collins. Detective T. J. Moore will go to Paris this afternoon and bring Bulger back tonight.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

PROFESSOR LIEB TO RESIGN PLACE

In Time For Board to Secure His Successor

He Has Made a Most Excellent Superintendent and Has Benefited Schools.

HAS PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

In conformity with an intention expressed several months ago to his intimate friends, and known to The Sun, Prof. C. F. Lieb will resign the superintendency of the Paducah public schools, effective at the end of the present school year. Professor Lieb will hand in his resignation to the board in ample time, so that the trustees may be looking around for his successor and not be compelled to take chances.

Professor Lieb's health has not been of the best since coming here, but he stayed a year longer than he had at first intended not desiring to leave the schools in the lurch. To his friends he stated that he had intended returning to the university and taking a higher degree after one year of work, but he changed his plans. He has several plans in view, one of them being to accept a professorship in a college and study for the degree; but he has not yet decided on his course.

Professor Lieb is a scholarly gentleman, and one thoroughly honest and enthusiastic in school work. He has done much for the improvement of the Paducah public schools, and has been instrumental in securing a general increase in salaries for the teachers.

Strike Is Settled.

Goldfield, Nev., Jan. 10.—The miners' strike in this district was settled last night when by a vote of two to one the miners decided to resume work immediately on the terms proposed by the committee. The settlement was greeted with general satisfaction.

PASSES

ARE SHY AMONG PATRONS OF WEST KENTUCKY RAILROADS.

People Are Paying Fares, to Whom the Sensation Is Unusual—Some Instances.

"Pass, pass, who has got the pass?" is the new game interesting railroad men in general, and 25 Paducahans are playing a star part in the game. So far the pass has not been disclosed, nor will it, and the amount of hard cash "couched up" by Paducahans who had heretofore been favored with passes over the Illinois Central and dumped into the road's coffers, is astonishing.

Even Superintendent A. H. Egan who holds the guiding reins of the Louisville division can not issue passes to persons not employed by the road and holders of annual passes in Paducah have had to buy tickets this year for the first time in many years.

Recently a Paducah banker who is intimately connected in a business and social way with a high official of the Illinois Central, received a telegram to meet the official at Fulton. He had to pay his own way there and back. Big contractors who do thousands of dollars worth of work for the road monthly, can not secure transportation gratis, and it is hard for them to get into the habit of paying for their passage.

When the law passed by congress went into effect the first of the year, those holding passes winked at it, but they soon realized it was meant for business and no better demonstration of the railroad's upholding it could be had than the experiences of annual pass holders since the New Year came in.

Hope for the Ponce.

Pensacola, Fla., Jan. 10.—Shortly before midnight tonight the wireless station at the Pensacola navy yard picked up a message from the steamer Caracas, which is believed to have in tow the overdue Ponce, from Port Rico for New York. It was to San Juan, and addressed to Gov. and Mrs. Winthrop.

WILL BE TRIED.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The secretary of war has ordered a court martial of Corporal Knowles, Company A, Twenty-fifth infantry, now under arrest at El Reno, charged with having shot Captain Macklin, on the night of December 21.

THE RIVER BILL.

Washington, Jan. 10.—It is announced the rivers and harbors bill, carrying about $70,000,000, will be presented to the house next week by Representative Burton, of Ohio, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee.

POWDER SET OFF BY EARTHQUAKE

Theory Concerning Disaster in Pennsylvania

Russia, Norway and Sweden Report Distinct Shocks and Rocking of Houses.

STORE HOUSES THREATENED.

Holidaysburg, Pa., Jan. 10.—Buildings of the Standard Powder company, four miles distant, were destroyed by an explosion early this morning. No lives were lost. The damage will exceed $100,000. The residences of John Walls, a mile from the plant was blown to pieces as was also the home of August Cooper. Fire is in progress and the flames are eating their way towards the storehouse where 5,000 kegs of powder and two carloads of dynamite are stored.

May Be Earthquake.

Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 10.—Reports from Harrisburg, Pittsburg, Blackville and Clearfield, tend to confirm a belief that the explosion of the powder mill near Holidaysburg early this morning was either the result of an earthquake shock distinctly felt here or coincidental with it. From all cities come reports of three distinct shocks, some of which continued two and three seconds.

In Sweden.

Stockholm, Jan. 10.—Two distinct sharp earthquake shocks were felt at several points in Sweden this morning. Dispatches say rocking of houses at several places caused a hasty exodus by alarmed occupants.

In Norway.

Christiania, Jan. 10.—Two severe earthquake shocks were felt here this morning, accompanied by rumblings like thunder. Telegrams show shocks were felt in other towns of Norway. Disturbances caused alarm but no damage is reported.

Felt in Russia.

Yekaterinburg, Russia, Jan. 10.—Two earthquake shocks were felt here this morning.

REIGN OF TERROR AT HARGIS TRIAL

Jackson, Ky., Jan. 10.—There is a terror here on account of the Hargis feud trials. Judge Carns is not holding court today and probably will not do so until troops, for which he has asked, arrive. Armed men crowd the streets. There is danger of an outbreak at any time. Anti-Hargis men believe Hargis will be acquitted at the present trial and are growing desperate.

REHKOPF CASE IS NOW BEING HEARD

Louisville Ky., Jan. 10.—(Special)—The bankruptcy proceedings against E. Rehkopf are being argued in federal court before Judge Evans. J. C. Flournoy opened for the creditors, while Judge Campbell and Attorney Ross followed for the defendant. Allegations were made by the defendant that the four real estate men, who appraised the real estate, only made a cursory examination and valued it wrong. The case will continue this afternoon. Depositions from Paducah have not yet arrived.

STRUCK BY A WIRE ON TOP OF BOX CAR

Foreman Lehnhard Clings to Running Board

Third Man to Be Injured in This Way but All Escape by Miracle From Death.

WIRE IS REMOVED AT ONCE.

Struck in the face by a heavy insulated electric feed wire, John Lehnhard, foreman of switch engine No. 1896, was thrown to the roof of a fast moving box car yesterday afternoon on the Illinois Central between Madison and Harrison streets, and saved himself from serious if not fatal injuries, by desperately clinging to the running board of the car. The engine was stopped by the engineer; Gibbons, who missed him, and the injured man was rescued.

Lehnhard was standing on top of the car, one of a string of fifteen being pushed to the shop yards from the river. Lehnhard did not notice that the wire hung too low. He failed to stoop and the wire caught him across the nose and on the right cheek, just below the eye. Perceiving that no foreman was in sight Gibbons stopped his engine. Lehnhard was found hanging to the running board and as soon as the last creek of the hard set brakes ceased, he descended to the ground badly shaken up and with an ugly gash on the cheek.

Wire a Hoo Doo.

This wire has proven a hoo doo to railroad men and since Sunday three switchmen have been struck by it. The first was W. L. Cooper who was knocked to the roof of a box car Sunday night. He escaped injury by the fortunate position in which he fell. The second was L. Shumaker, who was felled by the wire Tuesday afternoon. Lehnhard was the third, and the wire was taken down immediately when the traction company was notified of the third accident.

ALDERMEN

MEET TONIGHT AND ORGANIZE BY ELECTING PRESIDENT.

Possible Deadlock May Prevent Mayor Yeiser Delivering His Annual Message.

With four Republican holdovers and four new Democratic members the board of aldermen affords an excellent opportunity for a deadlock, a condition that promises to exist more or less throughout the year. The old members are Aldermen Earl Palmer, C. H. Chamblin, Samuel Hubbard and Harry R. Hank. The aldermen elect are E. D. Hannan, John Little, E. W. Baker and Dr. P. H. Stewart. Alderman C. H. Chamblin probably will be the Republican candidate and E. D. Hannan the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

If the organization is effected tonight Mayor Yeiser will submit his annual message, but he may have to hold it until he calls the lower board in special session.

In the meantime a lot of saloon keepers are anxiously awaiting the decision of the board of aldermen on the license question. It is intimated that the aldermen will decline to concur in the action of the lower board in granting licenses to saloons against which protests are made.

NEW TO KEEP CHAIRMANSHIP.

Will Not Call Meeting to Elect Permanent Republican Chief.

Indianapolis, Jan. 10.—Harry S. New, who yesterday succeeded George B. Cortelyou as chairman of the Republican national committee, said last night that he saw no occasion for calling a special meeting of that body to select a permanent chairman. Referring to his policy as acting chairman, he said that he had always believed it to be the function of a political committee to elect the party's candidates and not to select them, and that the fact that he becomes the ranking officer of the committee is not a shrewd political move intended to assist or impede the candidacy of anyone for the presidency.

MOLTEN METAL

Removes all Traces of Twenty-Seven Workmen in Steel Mill in the City of Pittsburg

EXPLOSION OF GAS

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 10.—An explosion of a furnace occurred at the Jones and Laughlin Steel works last night. Three are known to be dead, seven are in the hospital with serious burns and injuries and 24 are missing.

The explosion was caused by the accumulation of gas at the base of the furnace around which 35 men were working. But one escaped injury. Tons of molten metal poured over the workmen and for a space of 30 feet about the furnace the metal flowed to a depth of four feet.

Two alarms of fire were immediately sent in and all the ambulances in the city were called.

Buried Alive in Steel.

Seven, who were able to escape from the hot metal with their lives were taken to the hospital but all trace of the missing is lost. It is thought that they were buried in the molten steel and their bodies consumed.

Chief Peter Snyder, of the Fourth fire district, fell from a trestle and was seriously injured.

A horse carriage in answering the alarm was struck by a street car, seriously injuring two firemen. The windows of the car were shattered and a panic among the passengers ensued. Two women were trampled.

All Information Refused.

About the entrance to the mill, women, men and children gathered and made frantic efforts to gain admittance. The officials at the mill refused to allow anyone to enter. Information was refused all newspaper men. A heavy guard of foreign workmen was placed at the yard's entrance and even the police were powerless to get past.

ARMOUR TO BUILD MODEL CITY

Will Make Workers Comfortable Around New Packing Plant.

Minneapolis, Jan. 10.—Ogden Armour is at work on the creation of a model city. With fountains playing and garden spots abounding, with beautiful parks and patches of lawn brightening the landscape, and with clean cottages and paved, washed streets, a model city is to rise about the Armour packing plant in north-east Minneapolis. The complete details have yet to be worked out, but it is asserted that the Armour city at Minneapolis will be everything that "Packingtown" at Chicago is not. The building of the $2,000,000 Armour plant probably will commence in March or April.

Hanging at Knoxville.

Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 10.—John Thomas, a negro, was hanged here today for the assassination of Ernest Perkins, another negro, in a railroad camp here.

WANT PLANK PAVEMENT FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Colonel R. R. Sutherland, of the Illinois Central caboose department, and a member of the board of fire and police commissioners, will appear before the board of aldermen tonight to plead for relief for railroad men and school children by securing a dry walk from Jackson street to the Illinois Central soap yards. He will ask that lumber be provided to build a foot walk along the fill running from Jackson street to the soap yards, and believes he will be able to convince the board that it is absolutely necessary.

WEATHER — Threatening;

probably rain tonight or Friday. Rising temperature. The highest temperature yesterday was 47 and the lowest today was 26.

GRAVEL ROADS OF MCCRACKEN COUNTY

Is the Hope of Supervisor Bert Johnson

Would Be Actual Saving if $150,000 Were Spent on Improvements at Once.

THOUSAND DOLLARS DAMAGE.

County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson has returned to the city after a tour of the county and reports that all damage done county roads by the recent rains has been repaired except possibly in one or two places where just a little repair work is necessary.

"I will not be able to tell the extent of damage in dollars and cents to the roads because of the last rains until the end of the month when all bills for material and labor come in," he explained, "but I have enough data to figure nearly what the expense will be. I think it will amount to no more than $1,025.

"There were three places where a great deal of damage was done. The greatest was at Gam Springs bridge on the Clinton road, eight miles out. The bridge was washed down. It was a wooden structure and had to be rebuilt practically.

The second was at Hard Money bridge near the Graves county line. This bridge sank 26 inches and had to be leveled again. The third was at Maxon's Mill, where the road washed away. This was the first job I worked on. At Lamont and other places damage to the amount of about $100 was done, but these are incidental to the above.

To Build More Roads.

"I am greatly interested in the report of County Attorney Alben Barkley as to the legality of the county borrowing $150,000 with which to build gravel roads and concrete bridges. If this can be done we will have every road in the county graded and concrete bridges built, if my ideas are carried out. This can be done with no cost of interest, it might be said. Dirt roads cost a great deal annually to keep up. Not a shovelful would have to be put on a gravel road ordinarily in 8 years, and this expense and the annual levy applied on interest would be eliminated. In the matter of concrete bridges you can see where the economy comes in. When a new plank is needed one has to be hauled to the bridge and when the bill comes in, is for something like $3 or $4. The actual work of nailing the board down with its cost will not exceed 25 cents. Concrete bridges would need no such repairs.

"We have 120 miles of graveled roads in McCracken. There are 300 more to gravel. I estimate that there will be ten bridges to put up this year, and we want only the best which are the cheapest in the long run."

Supervisor Johnson says that County Attorney Barkley will not be required to report before April, and that the matter will not be presented to the board before that time.

JAPS SECURE ST. PIERRE SOUTH OF NEWFOUNDLAND

Montreal, Jan. 10.—The French Canadian newspaper, La Presse, announced today that the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon will be sold by France to Japan. The paper's authority for the statement is "a distinguished Italian, who is visiting in Canada."

The island of St. Pierre is located off the south coast of Newfoundland. The surface is rock, and vegetation is scanty. It forms, with the Miquelon islands immediately northwest, a colony belonging to France. It is crossed by three ocean telegraph cables. The permanent population of the colony is 4748, of whom 3473 are on St. Pierre, 776 on Miquelon and Langley and 499 on Ile Aux Chiens.

St. Pierre is the capital of the French colony of St. Pierre and Miquelon, on the southeast side of the island of St. Pierre. It is compactly built of stone, has a convent, a newspaper and a good harbor, and is an important fishing station.

HONEST MEASURE FOR WATERWAYS

Carries Appropriation of Seventy-Two Million Dollars

Less Open to Charge of Protecting Personal Interests of Members of Congress.

ONLY THE NAVIGABLE STREAMS

Chicago, Jan. 10.—John Calahan O'Laughlin, in a special to the Chicago Tribune says:

The total appropriations for river and harbor improvements in the bill which will be reported shortly by Chairman Burton of the committee having the matter in charge will amount to between $72,000,000 and $73,000,000.

It will be a bill less open to the charge of protecting the personal interests of members of the same character heretofore reported. It will not seek to make a navigable channel in a stream which never can be of national service. It is intended to provide for the improvement of rivers in interstate and foreign trade. Thus more than $12,000,000 is to be authorized for the construction of another lock for the Soo canal and the construction of a better channel in Detroit river. The commerce affected by these projects amounted last year to 55,000,000 tons.

It is proposed to also provide $2,400,000 for improvement of the Mississippi between Cairo and St. Louis, to be distributed over a period of four years. Another large improvement will be that of Boston harbor, for which it is intended to authorize $4,400,000.

Needs of the Ohio.

A sub-committee of the river and harbor committee began today to draft that portion of the rivers and harbors bill which will relate to the Ohio river. The sub-committee is composed of Representatives Acheson, Dovenor, Bankhead and Sparkman. It has been virtually decided that instead of trying to follow a general scheme of improvement of the Ohio, the committee at this session will proceed for such specific improvements of the stream as may be most needed to relieve traffic at the largest cities along the waterway. The specific improvements, however, will be conducted always with a view to the ultimate canalization of the entire river so as to provide a 9-foot stage.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

The Knights of Columbus last evening met and installed officers as follows: Grand knight, John T. Donovan; deputy grand knight, W. J. White; secretary, A. R. Meyers; treasurer, Morton Haud; chancellor, F. H. Flannigan; warden, George F. Welkel; lecturer, John J. Dorian; advocate, Joseph Mullins; inside guard, Maurice Lenihan; outside guard, J. P. Oberhauser; trustee for two years, A. R. Grouse; trustee for three years, Michael Williams.

Another Deputy Appointed.

John D. Craig, of the Clark's river section, has been appointed a deputy county clerk for the convenience of residents of his section who have had to come to Paducah when they had any business with the county clerk.

HOME-MADE REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle. These harmless ingredients can be obtained from any good pharmacy.

This prescription, states a well-known authority, forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism. Relief is felt from the first few doses.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it you want it badly.

Theatrical Notes

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Thursday — Willard Mack and Maude Leone in high-class drama. Friday — Henrietta Crossman in "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy." Saturday — Matinee and night — Willard Mack and Maude Leone in repertoire.

"THE GIRL AND THE BANDIT."

It was refreshing to hear real opera after a deluge of musical comedies and alleged musical comedies, which were neither musical nor comedies; and for that reason and the other, that the company was excellent and the piece entertaining, "The Girl and the Bandit" was received with unusual acclaim last night. Viola Gillette, who assumes the prima donna role, has an excellent soprano voice, of strength, culture and timbre, and a face and figure that charm the eye. Her singing and acting are both all that the role demands. But the star was not "all the show" in this instance; and George J. McFarlane, the baritone, as Count de Romano, made the distinct hit of the performance. After his first song his appearance on the stage was the signal for applause. He has a manly figure, a manly voice and looks and acts and sings at all times the part of the hero. McFarlane has considerably the best of it in the selection of lyrics, for all his numbers are gems. Little Leon Pam, as Queeressa, made a hit with her eccentric comedy, second to nobody else. The comedians: Sam Mylie, remembered here for his work in "The Isle of Spice," as Daniel Clancy, an Irish-American millionaire; William Sellers, the basso profundo bandit, and Carl Kahn as Alessandro; all received flattering attention at the hands of the audience. Frederick Knight, the tenor lover, who sang little, but plotted much, with his high pitched voice and blonde hair, contrasts well with the vocal depth and dark complexion of Count de Romano. Carol McComas, as Cherry, sang several chorus songs in a catchy manner. W. H. Thompson played the part of an English duke to perfection. The dancing of Miss Madeline Anderson added to the pleasing effect of the performance. The scenery and costumes are elegant and artistic.

Janice Meredith Tonight.

Tonight Willard Mack and Maude Leone in stock plays open at The Kentucky in "Janice Meredith," which, it is promised, will be cast in fashion historically correct. The company made a hit the first two nights of the week. Saturday matinee "The Little Minister" will be the bill. Saturday night it is "Raffles."

Henrietta Crossman.

The offering of the season at the Kentucky will be the engagement Friday night of that cleverest of all comedienne, Henrietta Crossman, in the much talked about London comedy success "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy." This event is entitled to uncommon consideration. It is a chance to enjoy Miss Crossman's inimitable comedy acting and at the same time to see a celebrated play which made a decided hit in London last year. "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy" was one of the pronounced successes of the London season and had a long run at the Duke of York's theater. It is a modern comedy of English life by Ernest Denny and is especially witty and amusing. Its persons are entertaining types who are constantly wrought up by the conduct, real or imagined, of Miss Peggy O'Mara. Peggy is a bright, merry young woman who enjoys a stirring up of the waters in the exclusive family where her lot is temporarily cast. She is a self-willed creature who views starched propriety not over sedately and takes a startling method of evading marriage with a lord. Miss Crossman is an ideal Peggy, just as she is incomparable in all dashing, spirited characters. Her "Mistress Nell," "As You Like It" and "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" showed that in pretty caprice, gay humor and lovable whimsicality Miss Crossman is without an equal. It will be a great pleasure to see her in so clever and wily known a play as "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy."

Walker Whiteside.

It may be that the artistic souls of Walker Whiteside and his incomparable company were satisfied by the adulation of a devoted Cairo audience last night at the opera house, for truly appreciation was never more manifest or heart-felt. Perhaps this may atone for the poor returns at the box-office for he it said to the great credit of the refined element of Cairo, there was but a fair audience to witness the beautiful play, "The Magic Melody."

Mr. Whiteside whose long success in Shakespearean roles made him one of the best known exponents of the great poet's work, though one of the youngest, finds in this incomparable play a vehicle for his rare genius that brings into play all his admirable strength quite as well as any in which he has ever appeared.

The day is one of the thrilling situations. A new story, having a lot of originality most cleverly treated.

Every member of the company is an artist whose ability adds its great part to the delightful ensemble that thrills and thrills the heart. Not infrequently ever, has there been a more magnificent production along artistic lines on the boards of the Cairo opera house.

Mr. Richard Sherman, as Pietra Giampa, was wonderfully strong; his presentation of the revengeful Italian was most naturally given.

Miss Martha George, as Mrs. Zellner a one time famous pianist in Germany was true as life. Her singing of the old German melody, "How Can I Leave Thee," with her own accompaniment on an old-time piano was as quaint and befitting the play as possible.

Miss Maude Shaw, as Clara Douglas an American girl, was very good and made her part one to be specially noticed for clever work.

The other parts were all in the hands of artists. The stage accessories were effective and in excellent taste. In fact

SEPARATE SCHOOLS

FOR NEGROES NECESSARY, SAYS GOVERNOR HOCH.

Message to Legislature Deals Chiefly With Standard Oil Problem and Its Situation.

Topeka, Jan. 10.—The railroads and the Standard Oil company were the chief topics of Governor Hoch's message today to the legislature, which convened here. The governor urged that Kansas continue the fight against corporations, which he said had been successful one. He favored an anti-pass law lower railroad rates strict enforcement of the prohibition laws, a primary election law and new regulations to govern state banks.

The legislation aimed at Standard Oil, he said, had made it possible for independents to do business successfully and was saving consumers of oil $500,000 a year. The only solution of the race problem, he declared, was the establishment of schools for negroes.

WATER NOTICE.

Patrons of the Water company are reminded that their rents expired December 31st, and those who desire to renew this quarter should do so before it is forgotten. All premises not paid for on or before January 10th will be discontinued, and the cost of shutting off and turning on water will be one dollar.

GIRL SUES HARVARD PROFESSOR

Asks $25,000 for Breach of Promise From Supposed Woman Hater.

Boston, Jan. 10.—Though he is assistant professor of romance languages at Harvard, Philippe Belknap Marcou has had the reputation among his associates and the students of having no romance in his soul. Yet he is the defendant in a $25,000 breach of promise suit.

An action against the professor was begun today by Miss Annie L. Manley of Boston. Professor Marcou's property in Cambridge has been attached.

The professor declines to deny or admit that he knows a woman of that name and maintains that his only position should be one of dignified silence. Professor Marcou has lived in Cambridge twenty-five years and has long been known as a woman hater and a man devoted passionately to his work. He reads and speaks many modern languages and has a library surpassed by few other private collections. He is wealthy.

RED HOT MESSAGE BEING PREPARED

Concerning Brownsville Incident, It Is Said

Foraker Sees He Has Gone Too Far
And Is Now Ready to Gracefully Retire.

THE COLORADO RIVER CASE

Washington, Jan. 10.— Another red hot presidential message to congress is being prepared at the white house. It will deal with the Brownsville affair, and is scheduled to reach the senate the first of next week. Accompanying the message will be the new evidence gathered in Texas by Mr. Purdy, assistant to the attorney-general, which will show in all probability, that there is no need of a congressional investigation.

It is understood that it will come pretty near clinching things as far as the facts are concerned, and unless the senate acts on the Foraker resolution this week the main fight of the Ohio senator will have been in vain.

Information reached Washington tonight regarding the nature of the report that Mr. Purdy will make the president. He has established beyond doubt it is said, that the first shots fired in the Brownsville affair came from inside the barracks; that colored soldiers and not white men with blackened faces, as charged by the constitution league, ran through the streets of Brownsville firing murderously as they went; that bullets fired on the night of the "shooting up" of the town have been found, and they are of the kind used in the rifles carried by the soldiers.

In addition to those essential points Mr. Purdy will present affidavits bearing on various other features all tending to prove beyond question that colored soldiers stationed at Fort Brown were guilty of the outrage.

President Roosevelt is not relaxing attention for a moment from the situation now existing in the senate. He had several conferences yesterday and today with administration senators looking to plans for meeting any coup that may be sprung by the other side. Among those he talked with today were Senators Lodge and Knox. Later in the day Senator Knox and Senator Foraker conferred together for a long time in the senate chamber over a new format compromise resolution.

Senator Foraker apparently realizes that he has overplayed himself to some degree and is now willing to save himself as best he can in the eyes of the country. It is true that the original Lodge amendment specifically recognizing the president's power to discharge soldiers would have been defeated if put to a direct vote, but that does not mean that a majority of the senate at heart doubts the president's power. It does mean that a good many senators on the one hand are afraid of the "big stick," and that several ambitious statesmen on the other, fear the colored vote. The situation is such as to make a so-called compromise most acceptable all around, but it will not come until there has been a good deal of noise.

The speech of Senator Daniel (Dem.) this afternoon was a most logical presentation of the summary power of the commander-in-chief of the army, both constitutionally and under the articles of war and other statutes. As in any other instances where he has gone up against the senate, it now, as though the president will achieve a victory that will be highly pleasing to him, although in other cases, the situation looked dark for a time.

Message On Colorado River.

President Roosevelt is expecting to send to congress within the next week or so a message dealing with conditions in southern California as a result of the break in the Colorado river at a point along that stream where an intake feeds the canal of the California Development Company which engaged in the business of supplying water to settlers in the imperial valley on the American side of the border.

Officials here say it is evident that the development companies must repair the break or go out of business.

Of course it was some misguided married man who defined a club as a place where a man feels more at home than he does at home.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Citizens Life Elects.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 10.— After a rather stormy session, in which the debate was at times heated, and which lasted for several hours, the stockholders of the Citizens Life Insurance company elected ten directors, the administration ticket winning by an overwhelming majority. Four of the ten were new members, the others being re-elected. The four new members of the board are Culpepper Exum, of Birmingham, Ala.; C. Fitzsimmons, of Columbia, S. C.; A. T. Slier, of Williamsburg, Ky.; G. C. Jones of Oklahoma City, Okla. The directors re-elected are: J. W. Lamb, Greenville, Ky.; J. S. Frazer, Mt. Sterling; J. R. Jarrett, Marianna, Ark.; F. M. Fisher, Paducah; J. W. Kootz, Greenville; J. H. Parrish, Owensboro.

Assessments Fixed.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 10.— The state board of valuation and assessment today took final action in the matter of assessment of franchise tax purposes of the Adams and American Express companies. The assessments made against the Adams company for the several years aggregate $5734,586, on which there would be due $28,672.90 in taxes. This leaves the company now owing the state between $9,000 and $10,000. This does not include the amounts due the counties. The American Express company is in the same attitude relative to the collection of the taxes due, as is the Adams company. It, of course, pays a much smaller tax to the state and to the counties thereof. The franchise valuation placed upon the two companies for the year is as follows: Adams, $626,209; American, $52,766.

FRONTIER COMMITTEE

Meets Tuesday and Will Have Some Evidence.

Tuesday evening, January 17 is the date set for the next meeting of the "Frontier Committee" of the First and Second wards. The place of meeting is at the Chris Miller tin shop, Sixth and Trimble streets, and reports from committees on investigations made during the past several weeks will be heard. It is understood the committees have been constantly at work securing evidence against several residents of those wards, and will present it before Police Judge D. A. Cross.

ROYALLY ENTERTAINED.

Mr. and Mrs. James Young Guests of Harry Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Young (Miss Lillian Lancaster), while in Dallas, Texas, with the Louis James company were entertained quite royally at a reception given in the conservatory of the Bush Temple of Music in that city. They were the guests of Mr. Harry Gilbert. Several Kentucky people attended the reception and it was a delightful affair.

Mrs. Young was Miss Flora May Clark, of Paducah, and is winning fame on the western stage. Professor Gilbert is a Paducah boy who left here only a few months ago to take charge of several organs and a large class of music in Dallas Tex.

Daily Thought.

"This is one of the merciful provisions that every day presents to block of pure Parian marble, so that every day every human being has a new chance to retrieve the past, to

OWENSBORO CAN.

Owensboro's mayor, following some rather drastic action on the part of the recent grand jury of Da-vess county, has through the police chief ordered the denizens of the "red light" to choose between leaving Owensboro and being fined. They have chosen the former course, and the Owensboro Enquirer says the city is cleared of them. In Paducah the circuit judge has ordered them off one street, where he pronounced their presence a nuisance. Citizens, following the example of early California settlers, formed a vigilance committee, and undertook to see that their own neighborhoods are kept clean and their children delivered from the contamination of the presence of houses of evil, but they have received little encouragement. It has even been said that there is no use of police interference. The women can not be driven out of the city.
They will fight their cases in the courts and win. It has been tried, we are told. How enthusiastically it has been tried in Paducah we are not informed, but it has been tried most successfully in Owensboro, according to the papers of that city.
Possibly, the Owensboro authorities have some effective method of coercing the demi-monde that we wot not of. In that event the comity of cities might be resorted to. A letter addressed to His Honor, Mayor O'Bryan, of Owensboro, would reach him, and doubtless he would be only too glad to inform Paducah how his simple dictum served to effect an evacuation of the "red light." Really, it would be interesting to know how he did it. Also it would be interesting to know where the girls, driven out of Owensboro, went.

Incidentally, the Owensboro Enquirer contains an editorial on the subject of the "necessary evil,"
which is worth perusing:

A decisive step has been taken by the city authorities in the ever-puzzling question of the social evil, and thirteen or some other unlucky number of unfortunate young women have chosen the option of leaving the city to remaining and being arrested and fined or imprisoned for wrong doing. The option was given them by Mayor O'Bryan and it was a kindly and unselfish way of dealing with these unfortunates who might have been arraigned and fined for a considerable amount before being turned from the city's gates.

To what extent the mayor may have been influenced in this act by the recommendation of the last grand jury is not known,

but it is known that he has had this serious question under consideration for several months and some persons who gave him
the benefit of their views, were,
in part at least, those who hold that a "red light" district is a "necessary evil in a city."

It certainly is not necessary to vir-tuous, worthy men and if the vicious and the unworthy think such a district is necessary to their life or happiness, they, too, should be invited to leave as their female associates in evil have been invited to do. There is no justification in law or in morals or in positive religion or in nature for the contention of those who claim that this sinning is necessary. It is positively forbidden by God's law and the state law. Officials are sworn to execute the law. There is nothing then for the officials to do but their duty and it should be gratifying to all to know that the mayor has determined to do his. Those who think this is but a teapot tempest should look back over the past year and see how many reforms started kind. They should ask the gamblers and the Sunday violators. There may be those so steeped in wrong doing and so confirmed in sinful habits that they will find it difficult to reform. For such the removing of the ever-present and enticing temptation will make their reformation easier.

Dr. A. List, president of the school board, is a sincere man, built on conservative lines, and if ever there were indications of the need of such a man in any deliberative body, the Paducah school board manifested them the first meeting night. Apparently flushed with victory, but lacking finesse, the majority proceeded to ride, not only over a minority of protest, but over the constitution and charter. Dr. List will do well to curb the floor manager. The board seems practically of one mind, so there is no reason why the trustees should not accomplish their ends in decency and order. There may come a time in the life of the board when regularity will decide a crisis. It may undertake to build a school or accomplish some other extraordinary design, and some taxpayer may object to the cost, and institute proceedings in injunction. Then the records of the body and the qualifications of its members will be scrutinized by lawyers as competent to interpret the law as W. T. Byrd. If more modest. When the board was ready to organize the qualifications of a trustee-elect were questioned.
Promptly W. T. Byrd declared the law, disqualifying him, unconstitutional and he was sustained.
Next W. T. Byrd declared that no bond is necessary for a secretary, and by the same vote he was sustained. Then W. T. Byrd was nominated for secretary and by the same vote he was elected, although the charter plainly provides that no trustee shall receive remuneration during his term of office. Verily, this is a Byrd of a board.

We heartily commend the action of the High School Alumni association and the Woman's club in their efforts to promote the love of the beautiful among the school children.
It is to the children we must always turn in the hope of effecting reform.
Some times we grow impatient of results and endeavor to revolutionize things, but we always fail. Grown people have formed their habits and their adult natures are unresponsive to new ideals. The children are more receptive of new and better impressions. If we would have more beautiful homes a more beautiful city, and a better community life, we must educate the coming generation to our ideals.

Just to think, less than a year ago
San Francisco was in ashes and mourning, a stricken city, and the whole world was clamouring to do her charity. Now she is promising to become the casus belli between the orient and the occident, and defying
the national government. The Frisco spirit is undaunted, at any rate.

School Trustee W. T. Byrd manifested wonderful confidence in himself, when, just before he was elected secretary of the board, he declared his unalterable conviction that a bond was not necessary. Why didn't Trustee Byrd wish a bond?

MINISTERS AMONG LYNCHERS.

Waterloo, Ia., Jan. 10.—A crowd of more than a thousand men last night battered through the walls of the county jail at Charles City, Iowa, with railroad irons, tore the hinges from the cell doors and took James Cullen out and lynched him.

Cullen murdered his wife and stepson yesterday morning. The murder, it is said, was premeditated and most brutal.

Mob Holds Prayer Meeting.
The mob took Cullen two blocks from the main part of the city and hung him to the county bridge over the Cedar river. The mob conducted a prayer meeting and asked him to pray. Cullen, who has been demented for over 25 years was 60 years of age.

The sheriff offered no resistance and was easily overpowered.

Leading Citizens in Mob.

The mob was composed of many of the leading citizens of the town and even the leaders made no attempt to disguise themselves. Cullen fought like a tiger but was overpowered. He declared that his wife and step-son had attacked him and that he killed them in self-defense. Four or five ministers and a large number of women were in the crowd.

Judging from expressions about town this afternoon the hanging was largely the result of the pardon granted to Louis Busse, the Bremer county wife murderer. Busse, who murdered his wife within fifteen miles of Charles City, was twice granted reprieves and then his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Son Met a Like Fate.

One of Cullen's sons it is said was hanged by a mob in Missouri near Joplin a dozen years ago for horse stealing.

Installation a Social Affair.

Evergreen Grove met yesterday afternoon, initiated two candidates and balloted on four applicants. The following officers were installed: A.
L. Iseman, worthy guardian; Saman-thy Clark, worthy adviser; Anna Calloway, clerk; Tilly Brahle banker; Rosie Kettler, magician; Tilly Greenhouse, attendant; Mamie Murray, assistant attendant; Mattie Griffin, inner sentinel; Mollie Kievel, outer sentinel. Managers: Ralph Berry king;
captain of team, Mrs. Fuller.

The hall was beautifully decorated with colors of the order. There were many visitors present to witness the installation, after which tables were spread and an elaborate banquet was enjoyed. The ladies received many compliments on their installation ceremonies. Mrs. Sally B. Roeder was presented with a beautiful watch fob with the emblems of the order, "Love, Wisdom, Power, Remembrance."

The Man in the Skull Cap.

Everybody knows the imprint of Blackwood—the man in the skull cap.
It is not a portrait of the original Blackwood. When the magazine was started "Maga" wanted a picture.
The portrait is of George Buchanan, and how it came to be chosen for a frontispiece to "Maga" no one knows.
Probably, thinks the writer in the Book Monthly, some sort of decoration seemed necessary for the plain cover. There was a block of George Buchanan lying about. And so George Buchanan's face confronts the universe as the embodiment of Scottish intellectuality. — London

when the lovers holding the false tracks. Hundreds have been without fuel for days, with zero weather prevailing. Citizens have organized to hold up any coal train that attempts to pass here without leaving fuel.

THE REPUBLICANS OF KEN-

TUCKY.

(Editorial in Louisville Post.)
The Republican party in Kentucky faces the approaching campaign for state offices with two distinct advantages:

First, the Democratic party has just nominated candidates for State offices at a primary of unsurpassed bitterness and the angry feelings aroused by this primary can hardly be allayed by the time of the next election.

Second, the Democratic State ticket
as nominated is a weak one, both from a political and a geographic standpoint.

The primary in itself was an outrage upon all the principles of Democracy. It was called and held one year in advance of the time that the ticket will be voted for. The expenses for the primary were under the law borne by the candidates. So a result poor men were barred. For four of the most important offices there was only one candidate. The heavy expense of the primary, coupled with the fact that no amount of personal popularity could be expected to outweigh the alignment of the machine, kept other candidates out.

Never before in the history of Kentucky politics have nomination for so many important State offices been made without a contest.

As to the strength or weakness of the ticket Democrats themselves are the best judges, and it is almost impossible to meet a Democrat of any faction who is not willing to admit the fact that the ticket is a weak one and will not appeal to the voters on its own merits.

Here then is the opportunity of the Republican party. The Republican party can, with a fair ticket,

hope to amend its own party followers. This will not only suffice, however, to win. To win not only will the Independent vote have to be secured, but thousands of Democrats, who have a growing tendency to Independent voting.

The Evening Post believes that the conditions are such that thousands of Democrats, would vote for a strong and evenly balanced Republican ticket in Kentucky next fall, provided that in addition to presenting a strong ticket the Republican party should evince some wisdom in its party management.

They Insist That There Is Still Competition.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Two attorneys, representing the government, made determined efforts today to induce the two traffic managers of transcontinental railroads admit that concentration of ownership means the stifling of competition in railroad traffic. The attorneys were Severance and Kellogg, and the traffic managers were J. C. Stubb, of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific and J. M. Hannford, of the Northern Pacific. Both contended despite the consolidation of interests that competition between the lines was as sharp today as ever.

Farmers Stack Grain.

Coffeyville, Kan., Jan. 10.—The Kansas farmers and grain dealers are still hampered by being unable to get cars to move grain. Every grain firm in this city could use more cars than it is able to get, and grain is being piled upon the ground in many places, for lack of storage facilities. At Valeda, ten miles east of this place, there is a pile of corn, estimated at 15,000 bushels, upon the ground awaiting shipment. This corn is being ruined, as it is exposed to the weather, and is thoroughly water-soaked. Reports from other grain-shipping points show like conditions.

SOLICITOR AIDS BOARD'S DEFENSE

Of Action in Ordering Down Swinging Signs

Traction Company Is Notified That Broadway Now Must Be Hurried Up.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., in compliance with the request of the board of public works at its meeting yesterday afternoon, will aid the city attorney in fighting the suits brought against the city on account of the board's orders to remove all signs not electrically illuminated. The board in issuing the order based authority on the city ordinance giving it the power to regulate the streets.

A member of Folz's Dry Goods company, on Broadway, was present in the meeting to protest against removing the signs to their awning which the street inspector had ordered removed because they had the name of the firm printed on them. She was told the order would not provide the city with out in the litigation on the subject of sign regulations.

A communication was ordered addressed to the Paducah Traction company, calling attention to the slow reconstruction work on Broadway and notifying it that the city will finish the work and charge the cost to the Paducah Traction company, unless greater speed in the work is made. The filler used on the street also is thought to be of an inferior quality.

Much slower than anticipated was the action in the market house case before the board yesterday. After hearing the principals, Mr. Wes Flowers, Mr. Charles Greer, and several witnesses, the board awarded the stall to Mr. Flowers, the defendant. Mr. Greer said he understood Mr. Flowers had sub-rented the stall contrary to the regulations, and Mr. Flowers answered that he had done so several years ago, but not since the rule had been passed forbidding it. They got into a spirited discussion of each other's conduct in the past, which the board ruled out as irrelevant. Mr. Greer asserted that Mr. Flowers merely secured a partner before the first of the year, in order to get a renewal of the license and that the rest of the term, he sub-rented the stall. The board ruled that it must be proven that he sub-rented the stall at the time of the renewal, to take away the stall, and that what he did last month or several months ago could not be brought up against him now. Mr. F. E. Metzger corroborated Mr. Flowers' testimony.

Suburban Life.

The glorious suburban life was shown up in its true colors by Mr. Metzger, who asked the board to make a firm near the addition in which he lives, so that citizens in that part of the city may get to town. He said their addition had been forced to come into the city limits, had paid $2,000 taxes, and the only return they received was empty promises of relief.

Mr. A. Franke, the board's appointee to the position of sewer inspector, reported that the flush tanks must be opened to prevent clogging of the sewers. Mr. Keebler reported that the pumping station was now in operation and that it would be sufficient to relieve the sewers.

A bad place in front of the street car shed on Broadway was ordered relieved. The street car company expects to pave this place when the weather will permit, but temporary relief was ordered. The street inspector was instructed to use ten loads of gravel around the city scales. The Thirteenth street fill, where the sewer contractors are dumping their surplus dirt, was reported in good condition.

City Auditor Kirkland reported that many of the market stall renters have paid their licenses and the others will do so soon. Several changes were made by persons giving up their stalls. Several of the poles offered for sale by the Home Telephone company were found available and purchased by the city. The Illinois Central railroad reported that Harahan's addition would be drained properly and immediately.

President Wilhelm and Dr. Taylor were present at the meeting.

A Family Reunion.

The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway, through its freight traffic department, has inaugurated a sort of family reunion, at which all members of this department may meet together and discuss matters of interest to the department and make suggestions for the betterment of improvement of its several lines. The meeting lasted two days and was convened last Tuesday in Nashville, in the ball room of the University club. Papers had been assigned to the several representatives of the department and these were read and discussed during the two days' session last night an old-fashioned southern dinner was served at the Utopia. Among members of the freight traffic department attending the sessions are: T. J. Mulaney, freight and ticket agent, Paducah; and E. S. Burnham, local agent.

Coffin Floated Across Creek.

Murphysboro, Ill., Jan. 10.—High water delayed for three days the funeral of John Pearce, west of Murphysboro. He died Saturday and, while a member of the family was in town getting a coffin, the water in a creek rose to a point which prevented its recrossing on the return home. This morning a skiff was hauled from Murphysboro to the place, after which the coffin was floated and towed behind the boat to the house of the dead man.

KIDNAPER

ATTEMPTS TO LURE LITTLE CHILD AWAY FROM HOME.

Switch Engine Backs Down Between Captor and Captive and She Escapes.

A dastardly attempt at kidnapping was made by an unknown man in Cairo late Tuesday afternoon, the story of which has just been made public, says the Cairo Bulletin.

Helen Scott, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Scott, of 420 Eighth street, while playing on the sidewalk in front of her home, was accosted by a white man who asked the child if she would go with him. The little one refused and he then asked her to show him where Mrs. Blank lived, giving a name that is unknown in that neighborhood. He then took the child in his arms and walked hurriedly out Eighth street to the Mobile & Ohio railroad yards. The child screamed as he walked away with her and he slapped her, according to the little girl's story.

A freight car was standing on the track in the yards and the kidnaper, finding that the doors were closed set the child down on the ground while he opened the door. Instinctively, the little one realized her danger and she immediately ran across another track toward home. As if providential, before the man saw her escaping, a switch engine and cars backed down on the latter track, preventing the villain from pursuing the child who ran home in great fright and told her mother of her escape. The little girl's clothing was muddy as the result of being placed on the ground in the railroad yards.

The kidnaper is described by the child as being a "bad looking man" with red hair and whiskers.

A fall of .2 since yesterday morning is not much, still it is a fall, and as the indications are for continued falling a gleam of hope may be seen in the threatening cloud of flood water. The stage this morning was at 39 feet. Business is good at the wharf, considering the crippled condition of some of the packet lines.

In the event of a flood similar to 1884, where would all the skiffs needed to conduct the simple operations of living in a flooded town, be found? Paducah has remarkably few skiffs. And with the demand from the groceries and other supply houses, to say nothing of the demand from ordinary citizens, the city would be paralyzed industrially. True light Johnny boats could be made several hundred a day, but before the demand had been supplied much inconvenience probably would be felt. In such an event it is probable that the steamboats would be requisitioned for their skiffs.

Three huge pumps at Cairo pumping a million gallons a minute, are an interesting sight in that town. They are used to keep the seep water down. Now some imaginative inhabitant of that American Holland, has suggested that the Ohio river be run through Cairo by these pumps, and the sand allowed to deposit, thus building up the city. The scheme is practicable and is worthy of the best interest of the citizens. It would be accomplished on the same principle that the local sand company secures their sand, by pumping both the sand and water up together and allowing the water to run back into the river.

The Joe Fowler came in late this morning from Evansville and left after taking on a big trip of tobacco.

The J. B. Richardson will bring the Henry Harley down from Kuttawa tomorrow. The Richardson is running in the Evansville-Nashville trade and will pick up the Harley on the up trip to Evansville.

Fires were kept under the shaft of the John S. Hopkins all last night in an effort to remove the flanges and cranks. They will be sent to Evansville to be placed on the new shaft.

The S. H. Clark passed up last night with a big tow of empties for Pittsburg from the lower Mississippi river.

The Peters Lee left Memphis yesterday at noon and will not arrive here until Friday afternoon on the up trip to Cincinnati.

The Kentucky will be due out of the Tennessee river tonight or early tomorrow.

Not until yesterday was the Chattanooga taken out on the ways at Mount City.

The Dick Fowler left on time for Cairo this morning and will have a big tobacco trip back tonight.

A new wheel is being built on the Kit Carson.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville will probably continue falling during the next two or three days. At Mt. Vernon not much change during the next 12 to 24 hours, then fall. At Paducah, will commence falling tonight or Friday. At Cairo will continue rising during the next 12 to 24 hours, come to a stand at about 43 feet, and remain nearly stationary for a day or two.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, will continue falling. The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo not much change during the next 24 hours.

The Wabash at Mt. Carmel will continue rising during the next 24 hours.

LECTURE ON INDIANS.

Major E. H. Cooper Will Appear at High School.

Major E. H. Cooper, of the Chicago Academy of Science, will lecture in the High school auditorium this afternoon and evening, and doubtless a large crowd will be on hand to hear him. Major Cooper has spent years in the southwest studying the country and its people, and is one of the best posted men on the subject. Major Cooper will have stereopticon views to illustrate his lecture, and will touch on the cliff dwellers, mining, Indians and the west in general.

Longing for Country Life.
A strange thing is the universal longing of professional men and others who have come to the city and have prospered as they advance in life to get back to the country. It is seldom that they do return and when they do there is often disappointment and things do not appear as they did long ago. The change is in the man himself, but he thinks it is in the country. Nevertheless, the desire to get back to the old country place to end one's days is very general. Sir Walter Scott refers to it and compares the course of man through the world to that of the hare which is started from the hare and after a long chase and making a long circle ends by returning to the nest from which she started.—Baltimore Sun.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,
Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

The clear call of a military bugle rang out in the morning air. With a cry of amazement they all three craned forward and peered over the edge. A large ship was lying under the very shadow of the iceberg. They looked straight down upon her snow white decks, fringed with shining brass cannon and dotted with seamen. A little clump of soldiers stood upon the poop, going through the manual exercise, and it was from them that the call had come which had sounded so unexpectedly in the ears of the castaways. Standing back from the edge, they had not only looked over the topmasts of this welcome neighbor, but they had themselves been invisible from her decks. Now the discovery was mutual, as was shown by a chorus of shouts and cries from beneath them.

But the three did not wait an instant. Sliding and scrambling down the slippery incline, they rushed, shouting, through the crack and into the cave, where their comrades had just been startled by the bugle call while in the middle of their cheerless breakfast. A few hurried words and the leaky longboat had been launched, their few possessions had been bundled in and they were afloat once more. Pulling round a promontory of the berg, they found themselves under the stern of a fine corvet, the sides of which were lined with friendly faces, while from the peak there drooped a huge white banner mottled over with the golden lilies of France. In a very few minutes their boat had been hauled up, and they found themselves on board of the St. Christophe, man-of-war, conveying Marquis de Denonville, the governor general of Canada, to take over his new duties.

CHAPTER XIX.

A SINGULAR colony it was of which the shipwrecked party found themselves now to be members. The St. Christophe had left Rochelle three weeks before with four small consorts conveying 500 soldiers to help the straggling colony on the St. Lawrence. The squadron had become separated, however, and the governor was pursuing his way alone in the hope of picking up the others in the river. Aboard he had a company of the regiment of Quebec, the staff of his own household, St. Valier, the new bishop of Canada, with several of his attendants; three Recollet friars, five Jesuits bound for the fatal Iroquois mission, half a dozen ladies on the way to join their husbands, two Ursuline nuns and ten or twelve gallants whom love of adventure and the hope of bettering their fortunes had drawn across the seas.

There was peace between England and France at present, though feeling ran high between Canada and New York, the French believing, and with some justice, that the English colonists were whooping on the demons who attacked them. Ephraim and his men were therefore received hospitably on board, though the ship was so crowded that they had to sleep wherever they could find cover and space for their bodies. The Cathinats, too, had been treated in an even more kindly fashion, the weak old man and the beauty of his daughter arousing the interest of the governor himself. De Cathinat had during the voyage exchanged his uniform for a plain somber suit, so that, except for his military bearing, there was nothing to show that he was a fugitive from the army. Old Cathinat was now so weak that he was past the answering of questions, his daughter was forever at his side, and the soldier was diplomat enough, after a training at Versailles, to say much without saying anything, and so their secret was still preserved.

On the day after the rescue they sighted Cape Breton in the south, and soon, running swiftly before an easterly wind, saw the loom of the east end of Anticosti. Then they sailed up the mighty river, though from mid-channel the banks on either side were hardly to be seen. As the shores narrowed in they saw the wild gorge of the Saguenay river upon the right, with the smoke from the little fishing and trading station of Tadoussac streaming up above the pine trees. Thence the ship tacked on up the river past Mal Bale, Amos Green, leaning on the bulwarks, stared with longing eyes at the vast expanses of virgin woodland, hardly traversed save by an occasional wandering savage or hardy coureur de bois. Then the bold outline of Cape Tourment loomed up in front of them, they passed the rich, placid meadows of Laval's seigneurie of Beupre, and, skirting the settlements of the island of Orleans, they saw the broad pool stretched out in front of them—the falls of Montmorency, the high palisades of Point Levi, the cluster of vessels, and upon the right that wonderful rock, with its dundee of towers, and its township hidden round its base, the center and stronghold of French power in America.

The old merchant had pined away since he had left French soil, like a plant which has been plucked from its roots. The shock of the shipwreck and the night spent in their bleak refuge upon the iceberg had been too much for his years and strength.

Since they had been picked up he had lain amid the scurvy stricken soldiers, with hardly a sign of life save for his thin breathing and the twitching of his scraggy throat. Now, however, he opened his eyes and raised himself slowly and painfully upon his elbow. "What is it, father? What can we do for you?" cried Adele. "We are in America, and here is Amory and here am I, your children."

But the old man shook his head. "The Lord has brought me to the promised land, but he has not willed that I should enter into it," said he. "But at least I should wish, like Moses, to gaze upon it if I cannot set foot upon it."

A minute later the old merchant was on deck, and the two young men had seated him upon a coil of rope with his back against the mast, where he should be away from the crush. The soldiers were already crowding down into the boats, and all were so busy over their own affairs that they paid no heed to the little group of refugees who had gathered round the stricken man. He turned his head painfully from side to side, and his lids fell slowly over his eyes, which had been looking away out past Point Levi at the rolling woods and the faroff mountains. Adele gave a quick cry of despair and threw her arms round the old man's neck.

"He is dying, Amory; he is dying!" she cried.

A stern Franciscan friar who had been telling his beads within a few paces of them heard the cry.

"He is indeed dying," he said as he gazed down at the aching face. "Has the old man had the sacraments of the church?"

But the old Huguenot had opened his eyes, and with a last flicker of strength he pushed away the gray hooded figure which bent over him.

"I left all that I love rather than yield to you," he cried, "and think you that you can overcome me now?"

The Franciscan started back at the words, and his hard, suspicious eyes shot from De Cathinat to the weeping girl.

"So!" said he. "You are Huguenots, then?"

"Hush! Do not wrangle before a man who is dying!" cried De Cathinat in a voice as fierce as his own.

"Before a man who is dead," said Amos Green solemnly.

As he spoke the old man's face had relaxed, his thousand wrinkles had been smoothed suddenly out as though an invisible hand had passed over them, and his head fell back against the mast. Adele remained motionless, with her arms still clasped round his neck and her cheek pressed against his shoulder. She had fainted.

De Cathinat raised his wife and bore her down to the cabin of one of the ladies who had already shown them some kindness. A brief order was given that the old merchant should be buried in the river that night, and then, save for a sailmaker who fastened the canvas round him, mankind had done its last for the poor Cathinat. With the survivors, however, it was different, and when the troops were all disembarked they were mustered in a little group upon the deck, and an officer of the governor's suit decided upon what should be done with them. He was a portly, good humored, ruddy cheeked man, but De Cathinat saw with apprehension that the Franciscan friar walked by his side as he advanced along the deck and exchanged a few whispered remarks with him.

"It shall be seen to, good father; it shall be seen to," said the officer impatiently. "I am a zealous servant of the holy church."

"I trust that you, M. de Bonneville. With so devout a governor as M. de Denonville it might be an ill thing even in this world for the officers of his household to be lax."

The soldier glanced angrily at his companion.

PRESIDENT WRONG SAYS GOV. PARDEE

In Final Message Before Retiring From Office

Chief Executive Does Not Understand Condition On Pacific Coast at All.

MUST KEEP THE RACES APART

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 10.—The final message of retiring Governor Pardee to the legislature here today was composed for the most part of an attack on President Roosevelt's stand on the Japanese question. The governor said the president was not aware of conditions on the Pacific coast when he wrote his annual message to Congress.

The Japanese and Chinese, he says, are not good American citizens and never can be. He upholds stoutly the right of the state to provide separate schools for Mongolians, says separation is necessary and declares that unless the courts shall decide to the contrary the state will continue to administer its schools as it sees fit.

It is safe to say that the president, when he penned the portion of his annual message upon the opening of Congress in which he refers to the treatment of the Japanese in the San Francisco schools was not aware of the condition on the coast, and especially in California. The people of the eastern states do not understand that to permit the immigration of only a small number of the Japanese and Chinese means monopolizing by them of such pursuits as they may engage in.

Cannot Be Absorbed.

This monopolization would not mitigate against the public good were the monopolizers capable of being absorbed into the body politic in this generation or even the next. Unfortunately, however, neither the Japanese nor the Chinese appear to be capable of absorption and assimilation into the mass of our people. It is useless to expect that a people with such different racial characteristics and civilization can ever mix with our people and become absorbed into our body politic. They can not become good American citizens; it is useless to attempt to make them such.

Under the circumstances it is not at all strange that there is an aversion to the mingling of the children of the two races. And, therefore, California has decreed that whenever it is so desired the local school authorities may provide separate schools for these Japanese children, in which they shall be taught as Caucasian children are and by equally capable teachers.

In the case of the Japanese, the separation seems to be the most necessary, because so many of the Japanese who desire to attend our schools are so much older than the Caucasian children with whom, on account of their deficient learning the Japanese must be classed. It is not at all desirable that youths, even Caucasian youths, of 18 years old or more of age, should be associated in the schools with the children of tender ages.

The state of California, a sovereign state of the United States of America has no quarrel with the government of either Japan or China. But nevertheless, until the courts of this country shall have declared that California has no right to do so, this state reserves to itself the right and privilege to conduct under the law, state, national and treaty, its schools in such manner as seems best to us.

This afternoon the senate and assembly met in joint session, canvassed the election returns and announced the election of J. W. Gillette as governor. The inauguration ceremonies will take place tomorrow.

Meacham-Thomas.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 10.—The Hon. G. P. Thomas, of Cadiz, and Miss Annie Laurie Meacham were married Tuesday at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Meacham, near this city. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives by the Rev. A. P. Lyon, pastor of the Methodist church here. The best man was Henry R. Lawrence, adjutant general of Kentucky, and the maid of honor was Miss Nellie Meacham, niece of the bride. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left for Cadiz, where they will reside. The groom is postmaster at Cadiz and has served his county in the legislature. The bride is a charming and talented young lady.

MUCH REPAIRING IS NECESSITATED

Board of Public Works Says Report is Not Padded

Estimates Expense of Operations for Year 1907 in Detail for Departments.

BRIDGE OVER ISLAND CREEK

Tantulus up to his chin in water, yet dying of thirst, does not present a sorer spectacle than the general council trying to make reasonable income cover a multitude of department estimates of expenses for operations in 1907. The annual report of the board of public works calls for the extremely modest appropriation of $52,000, and the city engineer's report, the fire chief's report, the request of the board of health, for a liberal appropriation, and the various other departmental reports of necessary funds for operation, will require a triumph of business acumen to distribute the city's income equitably and advantageously.

The necessity of surrendering 35 cents of the tax rate to the school fund will necessarily result in heroic treatment for the obese estimates of all departments.

All interest centers in the mayor's message, for in it and attached hereto, are reports of departments hitherto inaccessible to any other than the mayor's eyes. The city engineer's, and the fire chief's reports for 1906 with estimates of operating expenses for 1907, have not been given out, but leaving them and turning attention to the report of the board of public works, which is known because it was read in open meeting yesterday afternoon, it is claimed by the board that the necessary paring process of all appropriations will not bring them, as frequently happens, down to a healthy figure, but as a fact will work a hardship on the city.

The estimate of the board of public works for operating expenses, it is claimed, calls only for an amount considered necessary for operation and maintenance, without any items of constructive work. In view of the fact that little repair work was done on the streets last year much

Do You Like Honest, Square Dealing?

Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines are put out under the belief that publicity is the best possible guaranty of merit, and that the most intelligent people generally want to know what they take into their stomachs, whether it be as food, drink or medicine. Although it was a bold step to take, and quite out of the usual practice of makers of proprietary medicines, yet Dr. Pierce, some time ago, decided to publish broadcast and on all his bottle-wrappers all the ingredients entering into the composition, or make-up, of his celebrated family medicines. A square deal is therefore assured every one using his medicines, for one knows exactly what he or she is paying for when purchasing them, since every ingredient is published in plain English on the bottle-wrappers and the correctness of the same attested under solemn oath. These several ingredients are selected from among the very best known to medical science for the cure of the various diseases for which these medicines are recommended.

The most eminent and leading medical teachers and writers of all the several schools of practice have endorsed each of the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines in the strongest possible terms. The makers of Dr. Pierce's medicines believe that intelligent people do not wish to open their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulp down whatever is presented to them, either in the way of food, drink or medicine, without knowing something of the properties and harmless character of the agents employed. They believe that health is too sacred a heritage to be experimented with, and that people should not take medicines of the composition of which they are kept in ignorance. Dr. Pierce's medicines are made wholly from the roots of plants found growing in the depths of our American forests. They are so compounded that they cannot do harm in any case, even to the most delicate woman or child. By open publicity Dr. Pierce has taken his medicines out of the list of secret nostrums, of doubtful merit, and made them REMEDIES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. They are therefore, in a class all by themselves, being absolutely and in every sense non-secret.

In this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

There is a badge of honesty on every bottle of Dr. Pierce's medicines in the full list of its ingredients duly attested as correct under solemn oath.

No other medicines put up for general use through druggists can make claim to any such distinction, and none other than Dr. Pierce's medicines have any such professional endorsement. Such professional endorsement should have far more weight with the afflicted than any amount of lay, or non-professional, endorsement, or testimonials.

Of course, the exact proportion of each ingredient used in Dr. Pierce's medicines as well as the working formula or manner of preparing the same, and the specially devised apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may be fully protected from such unprincipled imitators as might be piratically inclined.

The preparation of these medicines without the use of a drop of alcohol, so will have to be done this year, and should the apportionment not allow this to be done, the accumulated repairs of two years will fall on the department next year. The longer street repairs are neglected the greater the cost. Less gravel was used on the streets last year than in any year for 20 years past.

Another certain source of street expense this year, will be the care of those streets over which the new sewerage district extends. In large part they are streets that have not had a great deal of attention, and while the contractors are obligated to replace them in the condition they found them, it is evident that it will require many months for the streets to recover from such an operation as digging sewer ditches.

The completion of the new streets will increase the cost of cleaning. Additions to the operating forces in several departments, with improvements at the market house, where it is desired to erect glass framework around the exposed ends, to protect against the weather, the operation and maintenance of the light plant and sewerage system, with several additional needs, an estimated approximately in detail, make the request for $52,000 less imposing and more necessary.

The street inspector's report was handed in to the board yesterday and Mr. Elliott estimates that $34,000 will operate his department during 1907; $16,135.93 were spent in 1906 and $1,134.34 were the receipts from all sources which were turned into the treasury. Mr. Elliott recommends that the stables be moved from back of the city hall, to the old hospital grounds. He outlines much repaving and guttering for the year and closes with a request for a clerk in his office and a street foreman.

Mr. Bundesman's report of the sewer department, requested two additional men, new tools for keeping the sewers cleaned, and that the present pumping station be duplicated so that one could be used should the other break down, and both used in emergencies as at present when the high water requires pumping to keep the sewers open.

Island Creek Bridge.

A new bridge over Island Creek probably will be a feature of the board's report, though nothing to accomplish the project is expected except through a bond issue. City Engineer Washington thinks that not less than $25,000 will be required to build it. Altogether, the report shows great activity of the board last year with good results, especially in the streets and lighting plant.

Altogether, the report shows great activity of the board last year with good results, especially in the streets and lighting plant.

Island Creek Bridge.

A new bridge over Island Creek probably will be a feature of the board's report, though nothing to accomplish the project is expected except through a bond issue. City Engineer Washington thinks that not less than $25,000 will be required to build it. Altogether, the report shows great activity of the board last year with good results, especially in the streets and lighting plant.

OUR Special Sale of Odds and Ends in Men's Suits commences Saturday morning, January 12, and we have placed upon two of our immense clothing counters about 250 Suits. We went through our stock and, wherever we found only one or two suits of a size or pattern left, a clean cut of 50 per cent was made. They are mostly this season's goods and come in single and double breasted, black and fancy, cassimeres, cheviots and Oxfords, plaids and stripes; splendidly tailored and well worth the former prices of $5.00 to $25.00 --now $2.50 to $12.50. It should be understood, however, that this special sale in no wise conflicts with our regular January Clearance Sale, in which our entire line of Suits, Overcoats, Raincoats and Topcoats is being offered at the remarkable reductions mentioned below. If we could but demonstrate the full meaning of these great price reductions, our work of clearance would be easy. Ink and paper are but poor means of expression---and we recognize that our past reputation rather than our present words will influence you to buy now.

ELOPING COUPLE FOUND DEAD.

Man Takes Cousin's Wife Away, Kills Her and Ends Own Life.

Denver, Jan. 10.—When John Bean, a locomotive engineer of Pueblo, arrived here this morning in search of his wife who had eloped with his cousin, Elmer Bean, he learned that the couple had been found dead in a room at 1137 Twenty-first street.

The husband had come in response to a letter from his wife, who had repented, but the cousin had learned of his coming and strangled the woman, and then cut his own throat with a razor. The following note was left by the murderer and suicide in explanation:

I have done this because she proved faithless to me. I love her better than my own life, and she was going to leave me and going back to her husband. Don't let him have our bodies.

Elmer Bean, the murderer, leaves a wife and 12-year-old daughter, living at Colorado Springs.

Progress begins when men realize that all truth and virtue in the world were not cornered by their ancestors.

BLUE LAWS BRING HOTEL'S END

Boston Tavern Fails and Early Closing Hours Are Blamed.

Boston, Jan. 10.—The Hotel Lexington, on Boylston street, formerly known as the Reynolds House, closed its doors last night and James D. Fanning, the proprietor, in announcing his retirement, blames the blue laws of the town.

"The old blue laws of the city and especially the 11 o'clock closing law have militated against the successful conduct of the business of the house," said Mr. Fanning. "We were dependent in a very large measure upon the after theater trade. It was there that the 11 o'clock closing law worked against the success of the hotel. I am going back to Denver, where the hotel business is prosperous."

The liabilities of the company are about $75,000. The assets are small and doubtful in value. Mr. Fanning is a hotel man of large experience in Chicago and Denver and this is his first failure.

BUYS PLOT FOR ADAMLESS EDEN

Chicago Woman Purchases 50,000 Acres to Colonize in Texas.

Fort Worth, Tex., Jan. 10.—Fifty thousand acres of land in Refugio county, in the extreme southwestern part of Texas, has been purchased for a woman's colony. Announcement was made here today that the deal has been closed for Mrs. Mary E. Hayden of Chicago, who, it is said, will come to Texas next month to make the necessary arrangements for women to locate on the land, which, according to the prospectus, is to be an "Adamless Eden."

Nicaragua Aiding Honduras Revolt. Washington, Jan. 10.—That the revolution in Honduras is being aided by the president of Nicaragua is the advice received at the state department today.

The president of Honduras has notified Costa Rica of his intention to send troops of the Nicaraguan frontier to suppress the revolutionary movement. The department is further advised that Nicaragua was a party to the treaty of peace and amity of San Jose, but Costa Rica declined to ratify it.

The treaty of San Jose was the outcome of the Marblehead agreement, which was confined to Guatemala, Salvador and Honduras. The Marblehead agreement, however, provided for negotiations looking to a further treaty at San Jose. This latter treaty Nicaragua now repudiates.

The fact that Nicaragua had refused to ratify the treaty of San Jose, Senator Coren, the Nicaraguan minister, said today was due to the feeling by the president of Nicaragua, that the treaty of Corinto, initiated by him and signed by the other Central American republics, covered the same ground, and therefore the San Jose treaty was unnecessary.

Maryland Judge Holds a Hearing Over Phone.

New York, Jan. 10.—Judge Sharp, of the Maryland court of appeals, who is in this city on a visit and is at the Waldorf-Astoria, held a hearing yesterday over the long-distance telephone between this city and Baltimore. The case was that of Baltimore's mayor and city solicitor against a corporation known as the Canton company, which claims a park in Baltimore called Canton park. Baltimore contends that the title belongs to it. City Solicitor Spruce, of Baltimore, decided yesterday that to preserve the city's rights he would have to appeal to the court of appeals before Saturday. He had tried to appeal previously, but Judge Sharp had objected to the admission of certain testimony. To have the testimony admitted required argument, but when Mr. Spruce sought the judge he found that he was in New York. He called him up by phone, and, on learning that the judge would listen to argument, he and Assistant City Solicitor Ritchie and Goldsmith argued for about a quarter of an hour.

Grade of Lieutenant General Stands

Washington, Jan. 10.—The house today went into a committee of the whole for the further consideration of the army appropriation bill. When the paragraph abolishing the grade of lieutenant general of the army on the active list, on its becoming vacant, was reached, Mr. Cooper, of Wisconsin, made a point of order against it which was sustained by the chair. This leaves the grade of lieutenant general as it now is.

The Immutability Chinese.

The Western nations are just waking up to the fact that you can't change a Chinaman. Under pressure he will make promises, but he reserves to himself the privilege of not keeping them when thus made. After the "Boxer" uprising the Powers forced from China a treaty, in which a promise was made of reform in the foreign office or tsung-li-yamen. It now appears that the Chinese had no idea of treating the foreign representatives any better than they had before. The extent of their reform of the foreign office has been to change its name from tsung-li-yamen to wal-wu-pu and to reshape the table at which the ministers of the office sit, which was formerly round and is now rectangular.—Boston Globe.

Will Support President.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Senator Blackburn, leader of the Democrats in the senate, said: "The Democratic senators have entered into an agreement that they will support the president in the Brownsville affair. Through whatever turns it may take, they believe it to be their duty to stand by the president so long as he continues to protect communities of American citizens from the outrages of colored troops."

Oil painting was an art thoroughly understood by the ancients, but was lost sight of, and only revived about the end of the thirteenth century A. D.
